Too Old For The Chorus But Not Too Old To Be A Star

A Musical Revue
by Marie Cain
Mark Winkler
and Shelly Markham

"How old is TOO old?"

This is a smart, funny musical revue about men and women who find themselves suddenly 50! Set in their neighborhood retro coffee shop, five characters express over 18 musical numbers the gamut of their frustrations and joys -- from troublesome relations with still demanding parents and cutting edge technology, to finding delight in second careers (and second chances), to getting smarter and finally knowing that "age is just a number." The title celebrates life, finding fulfillment and being appreciated for exactly who you are - all the while getting a senior discount!

It's Christmas 1972 and three months since singing group The Bop She Bops' triumph at their ten year high school reunion. Now they are in preparation for their biggest venue yet, the town's annual Christmas Eve Concert. But, as fate would have it, a blizzard hits as the girls gather in the basement to practice the evening before and the trio is challenged to make Christmas on their own. "Maybe Christmas," they'll find, "doesn't come from a store. Maybe Christmas, perhaps, means a little bit more!" Featuring hits from the 60's like Ain't No Mountain High Enough, I Will Follow Him and Daydream Believer as well as Christmas classics Rockin' Around The Christmas Tree, Santa Looked A Lot Like Daddy and of course Merry Christmas, Baby!
